

Growing Pedagogical Leaders

Leadership for What Matters Most in Our Schools

Suitable for Primary and Secondary School Teachers

Lunch, refreshments and manuals included

Why? Leadership in education is different... it's about challenging and improving practice in the classroom.

We want to develop who leaders are - because to enable true leadership and great educational outcomes for all students - we need every leader at the interface, breathing, living and being the kind of leader that is an enabler of learning.

How? We are bringing a fresh approach to our work in growing pedagogical leadership capabilities in our schools.

Firstly Stephen and Judith are offering interviews with participants before and in between each workshop to grow relationships, engaging in dialogue around the current reality of each individual's journey. From these conversations, workshop content will be designed to support the participants' growth and development. Meetings in between workshops will provide an opportunity for modelling, coaching and mentoring techniques, setting leadership goals along with an action plan for growth and development.

What? Workshops will be designed to:

- Grow your courage
- Enhance your sense of purpose
- Explore your leadership mindset
- Develop your ability to build trusting relationships
- Narrate your story
